Dear APEX-lovers

The first big Oracle conference of the year is HERE!... In one week time Denver will be red colored! The streets will be Microsoft and SAP free as the people at Collaborate 08 will rule the city!

As we did last year we'll organize another APEX SIG meeting. We thought it would be nice to do another Q&A like at Oracle Open World. Sort of free forum for all the people in the room.

The panel includes some very smart and friendly people: David Peake, Product Manager of Application Express at Oracle, Tony Jedlinski, Apex Developer of the year 2005 and last but not least, John Scott, Apex Developer of the year 2006.

The APEX SIG meeting is on Tuesday, April 15 from 6 to 7 p.m. in the Korbel Ballroom 4D.

After the APEX SIG Meeting we're planning to do another APEX Meetup. That would be the AFTER PARTY where we can talk in a more relaxed environment with some beverages! All APEX (aka Marvel) Heroes, that's our (APEX developers) new nick name, will make the local bar criminal free! I'm not sure whether the Marvel Hero thing was launched in Las Vegas, but I read it on the blog of somebody living there :-)

So feel free to pop-in! Make my panel sweat with your tough questions and join us afterwards to celebrate our new Heroes name.

The Apex Insider

We have exclusive interviews with these Oracle Insiders about Apex:

Welcome BEA Developers!

Application Express SIG

Welcome to the Application Express (formerly known as HTML DB) SIG! In this SIG you will be able to find best practices, browse through user contributed applications, participate in discussions with other users of APEX, and more.

In case you haven't noticed, our entire ODTUG site was developed in Application Express and uses this great tool for many of our features.

The members of the ODTUG Application Express List Serve asked for a single page of APEX Web sites. ODTUG is in the process of developing an application that will allow users to upload links as they find APEX sites. Until then feel free to send the links to veronica@odtug.com or better yet, join the APEX List Serve and give us your links that way. Click here to view a list of ApEx Web sites.

If you are attending Oracle OpenWorld, check out our APEX Symposium, Sunday September 21, 1:00 - 5:30 pm, Room 3014, Moscone West.

Moderator: Scott Spondonilini
